

INFORMATION ON DATA TRANSFER

If you authorize us to share your contact information with Event Partners for the purpose of tracking your attendance at the Event.

You should know that:

From Next Business S.L. (hereinafter, Nebext) we will proceed to transfer your personal data to all or part of the Partners, which can be consulted in the following link.

Particularly, the following information shall be transferred: name, surname, contact details, company for which they work and position they hold; this information will be included in their registration form.

Your data shall be used by the entity receiving the data to contact you in connection with your attendance to the event. Nebext is not responsible for the data processing carried out by the Partners, which will be governed by the privacy policies of each of them.

Nebext's legal basis for the transfer of your data to the corresponding entity is the consent given by you when authorizing us.

We also take this opportunity to remind you that you can update your personal information from the event website by identifying yourself as an event participant.

If you want to know more about how Nebext process your personal data, you can consult the privacy policy of the website here.